Explanations

[1] eg. School university college

[2] eg. Part-time 10-90%, full-time 100%

[3] Additional costs for lunch could be deducted.

[4] When you rent an apartment during the week away from your home because of your work, then you could deduct these costs; but excluded hotels.

[5] If you've taken a course for your business education, (eg. Language, coaching etc.) these costs could be deducted.

[6] If you live in a block with a community, communal costs are potentially deductible. If you live in your own house the connection fees for eg. Water, waste water etc. could also be deducted.

[7] When you live in a community there are sometimes contributions for a specific fund reserved for significant renovations. These costs could be deducted.

[8] If you are not working or self-employed, you normally have to pay some AHV-fees. These costs are deductible.

[9] Only certain donations are acceptable, please send us the details and we can check this.

[10] If you live in the canton Zug, part of your monthly rent is deductible. This may also apply to other cantons in the future.

[11] This is a certificate you get at the end of the year from your health insurance (Concordia, CSS, Swica etc.). This confirms the fees and Franchise/excess you've paid during the year.

[12] Only these two conditions are deductible.

[13] If you cover the cost of your own or your parents care/nursing home costs these could be deductible.

[14] We require the bank statements of your family (Partner 1, Partner 2 and children) worldwide. (even when paying taxes in the foreign country) Within the Swiss tax return all assets need to be declared to ascertain your tax rates.

[15] Please state all significant gifts from other parties.

[16] Only applicable if; you have received lump-sum capital from your 2nd or 3rd pillar pension.
